Now do not fail

The Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, were introduced to the public about twelve months ago, and during that period their success has been so great as to induce the proprietor to offer them without a doubt recommend them to the public as the best medicine for purifying the blood and bringing the nervous system, and consequently the whole system into a healthy state. Only consider the effect this medicine, even off that it is in the power of no other medicine to produce. We are so sanguine that the greater success than Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters combining all the advantages of the most experienced medicine for the day and free from many of their usual disadvantages.

The annexed certificate of Cal Barlow will be read with interest by those ill with Headache and other complaints arising from a disordered stomach

New Bedford Aug 10, 1844

Dear Sir I find Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters will that you recommended them to me, and it gives me pleasure in saying that I think them the best medicine of the kind ever offered to the public. I have been troubled for a long time both Jaundice and derangement of the Stomach, attended with Headache and Vertigo which was so bad at times that I could not see. I think that I am entirely cured by the use of three Bottles. I have used them in my family and would recommend them to every one suffering from Jaundice Indigestion and Headache

DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

At certain seasons of the year, and particularly in the spring, many persons are subject to a depression of the spirits accompanied by a habitual stomach, loss of appetite nervous irritation general languor, and a variety of symptoms which it is impossible to describe. The only way to remove this disease is to strengthen the stomach by the use of proper tonic remedies, to invigorate the nerves, secure an appetite for food and allay nervous irritation and by putting the body and the mind in a state of health, to produce ease and strength of mind. To do this nothing is more effectual than the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters. They are recommended as the best SPRING MEDICINE ever offered to the public. One trial of their virtues will be sufficient to convince all of their invaluable properties, and those who have used them will never resort to any other remedy for this painful disease destructive as it is to all happiness and usefulness in life

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC

Be particular and ask for Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, and receive no other. This is the first preparation of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry combined ever offered to the public, and the great success attending its use will induce the unprincipled to counterfeit it. As a precautionary, see that the bottles have the words Dr Wood's SARSAPARILLA AND WILD CHERRY BITTERS pressed on the glass as a further protection each label on the bottle will be signed by the proprietor J Thornton, Jr Take these precautions and you will get the genuine article

From the New-Bedford Register,

Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters—The respectability of gentlemen in this town and vicinity, who testify to the benefits, within their personal knowledge, derived from the use of this Compound of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry, is such as to put to rest all doubts as to the value of these extracts to those suffering from Dyspepsia Jaundice, Indigestion, Headache, or Scrofulous diseases When a medicine has been known to effect cures in certain cases, no recommendation is needed, other than a simple statement of facts For those, then, who are liable to any complaints for which the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters is advertised as a remedy, we would say, do as others have done and find relief in the way pointed out by the proprietor of this high popular compound

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM.

IF there be a pleasure on earth which superior beings cannot enjoy, and one which they might also envy mon the possession of, it is the power of relieving pain. How consoling, then, is the consciousness of having been the instrument of rescuing thousands from misery to those who possess it. What an immense amount of suffering has been relieved, and what a still greater amount of suffering can be prevented, by the use of Sand's Sarsaparilla! The unfortunate victim of hereditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews and bones half curious, has been restored to health and vigor. The scrofulous patient, covered with ulcers, loathsome to himself and to his attendants, has been made whole. Hundreds of persons, who had groaned hopelessly for years under cutaneous and glandular disorders, chronic rheumatism, and many other complaints springing from a derangement of the secretive organs and the circulation, have been raised as it were from the rack of disease and now, with regenerated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this popular medicine.

The following interesting case is just considered itself to the careful attention of all similarly afflicted

Sands's Celebrated Sarsaparilla

I speak experimentally when I say that this medicine is far more effectual in the cure of chronic or acute rheumatism than any other preparation I have ever tried. Having endured extreme suffering, at times within the last five years from repeated attacks of rheumatism or acute Rheumatism, I have recently used Sands's Sarsaparilla with the happiest success, my health is now better than it has been for many years, my appetite is good and my strength is rapidly returning. I attribute this happy change entirely to the use of this patent medicine. I feel it my duty to comply with those who have tried it with the most convincing and painful complaint I cannot refrain from recommending to such the use of this valuable medicine. Having the most entire confidence in the medicine and skill of Dr Sands I was induced to try it, and I can confidently say that it is the most efficacious of all the Sarsaparillas I have taken. I feel it my duty thus to caution invalids against the use of other Sarsaparillas which are recommended by the Messrs Sands

VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR

FOR Colds Coughs Consumption Spitting of Blood Whooping Cough Asthma Croup Bronchitis and all diseases of the Lungs

This medicine is purely vegetable—the result not of mere theory and speculation but of much study and research during years of debility and suffering and the inventor having succeeded in curing himself and having tested its efficacy on thousands of his fellow men in New England and the western States feels great confidence in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy. It operates most mildly and yet powerfully on the Liver and Pulmonary Organs, keeps the cough loose promotes expectoration and induces a degree of quiet in the system peculiarly grateful to the patient. Never having experienced so many days and nights of restless anxiety and suffering. Hear the testimony of those who have been benefited by it. Hon Bates Turner late Judge of the Supreme Court of Vermont, says "I have been acquainted with the medicine called Downs Elixir for several years past and from its effect upon myself and in cases where I have witnessed its effect upon others I consider it one of the most fortunate medications ever made." Robert W Woodruff of Burlinguville N J after certifying to its good effects upon himself in a case of long standing internal weakness and cough concludes thus—"This certificate is given with the hope that it may direct the attention of all suffering from colds coughs inward weakness &c to this invaluable medicine."

Dr Gustavus Hills, of Ashtabula Ohio says "I was induced to try the Balsamic Elixir at first using used one bottle with decided advantage I followed it with another which I feel no hesitation in saying is more pleasing and permanent effect than all other cough medicines I ever used." William C Perkins of Sommersworth Grist Mills N H says "I have used N H Downs Vegetable Balsamic Elixir for phthisic and found immediate relief and do consider it the best medicine ever used by my family for that complaint." B Baily Esq of Canton, N Y concludes his certificate thus "I have no hesitation in saying to the public that the said Balsamic Elixir was the only means of my recovery and I do most cheerfully and earnestly recommend it to the public." Chaplin Nelson of Waterford Me in a letter to the general agents dated March 10 1845, says, "The agent of Downs Elixir was here last month and left one and a half dozen bottles with me and knowing its value do not take much have sold all he left and finding it one of the most valuable medicines I ever had in my store to sell want you to send on another lot immediately by stage."

THE well established and well-earned reputation of WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS as a Sovereign antidote, and cure in cases of Fevers Headaches, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Dysentery Female Complaints, &c. &c has excited the cupidity and envy of the proprietors of other medicines and their admirable qualities cannot be surpassed. Envy and jealousy have combined against them the antagonist efforts of rival venders who seek to palm off other medicines by the deceptive name of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills

Beware of all attempts to palm off any spurious or counterfeit specifics by means of partious sounding and deceptive titles "SUGAR COATED PILLS" may be pleasant to the palate, but it requires something more than an agreeable exterior to combat with disease. Do not attempt to analyze the composition of a boasted or pretended improved or Indian Vegetable Pill which has been thrown into the market and extensively in the country papers—we have done so—nor is it necessary. It is however to assure the public emphatically, that there is no improvement on WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable Pills, that whoever purchases them under the name of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills will be sadly deceived. This caution is given to prevent the public from being imposed upon by the spurious compositions of ignorance or knavery, and to secure for the genuine Pills the distinctive and original Indian Vegetable Pills

Remember, there is none but "WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable Pills," which are protected by patent, and have attained an almost incredible sale and are owing altogether to their own intrinsic merit. Thousands have been saved from the grave by using Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills have proved in numberless instances when used in cases of Fever, Remittent Nervous, Inflammatory Fevers, Measles, Scarlet Fever, Pleurisy, Pneumonia, Consumption, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Gout, Costiveness, Piles, Dyspepsia, Hypochondria, Fits, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Limbs, Female Complaints, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Jaundice, Cutaneous Eruptions, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Scrofula, Scald Head, Ulcers, Venereal Complaints, Mercurial Diseases, Gravel, Dropsy, Fits, Nervous Affections, Nervous Debility, Nervous Headache, Nervous Irritation, Nervous Complaints, Hypochondria, Hysteria

THE undersigned, Agents for the manufacture and sale of VALENTINE'S PATENT WATER WHEELS are prepared with patterns for casting all the different sizes and forms of wheels required for the various conditions in which they are used

The superiority of these Wheels may now be considered as fully established, the evidence of which may be seen in the fact that hundreds of them have been put into successful operation in this State within two years past and also in the fact that a diploma was awarded for them by the managers of the Mechanic's Fair in Boston last year, and further that many careful experiments were made by scientific Engineers at Lowell last season, the results of which as stated in a communication by one of them, prove conclusively that the Valentine Wheel is at least 50 per cent stronger than any of the Tub or Reacting Wheels now in general use

MORE than 100 Cures in the city of Bangor and vicinity within the last month and this Cough Pains in the Side &c &c have been effected by the use of that most valuable of all Cough Medicines HENRICKS PULMONARY BALSAM. This Balsam is a new article it is not more than four or five months since the first Bottle was offered for sale in this city. We have sold over four hundred bottles within the last 4 months and though every bottle has been warranted to give perfect satisfaction or the money would be refunded only two empty bottles have been returned. Moreover and still further we hereby certify that we have heard from nearly two hundred cases that have been materially relieved and over 100 cases of entire cures within that time—all the classes of Coughs attended with pains in the side &c. It has been found to be a perfectly safe and painless remedy for children and we can refer to twenty cases of infants in this city who were pronounced incurable by their physicians and are now perfectly well. Portland and Montreal Rail Road.

HOSTILITY OF BOSTON TO MAINE

It is a singular fact in the early history of this country that, what is now the State of Maine was once a sort of Province of Massachusetts and the history of that connection though not very well understood I think shows at the present day the tone of frequent quarrels The fact that a territory entirely separated from her should still be an integral part of another State seems analogous to national history It was only more than 20 years since the District of Maine was severed from Massachusetts proper and received an independent State

The circumstances of our early connection and the natural laws of trade have both strongly contributed to perpetuate the intimacy of former years Maine with her extensive territory great natural resources, and commercial advantages, has always been the best customer of Boston and has heretofore been to Boston what the North River Valley was to New York city before the construction of the Erie Canal.

Something over fifteen years since Boston feeling the drain which New York was making upon her business, was apprehensive that a decline of prosperity was the destiny in store for her, and a meeting of her citizens was called to consult upon the circumstances of her condition and the adoption of such measures as would restore her to her true position Then were put in motion those influences, which have since produced her gigantic Rail Roads to which she is so many indebted, for her present prosperity The Western Rail Road extending to Albany across the natural avenues of business and the most formidable obstacle was one of the most noble enterprises of modern times With this great avenue completed, Boston with complacency saw a large portion of the great West pouring its treasures into her lap, which had before been quietly deposited at New York This was looked upon as sufficient to secure to her a large share of the rapidly increasing business of the West—and her energies were thereafter mainly directed to the perfecting of the means of communication with the country naturally connected with her business Rail Roads through Vermont and New Hampshire in the general direction of Montreal, were talked of as well as an extension of the Eastern Road to Bangor on a view to their general convenience rather than as opening new regions of the country for their trade

In the natural order of events the citizens of Maine less than a year since started the project of opening a new avenue to the west by means of a Rail Road to Montreal The unimpeachable advantages of her position were readily perceived provided the route should be found practicable between the two points where the St Lawrence in a desirable latitude approached most nearly to the ocean These points were Montreal and Portland

All admit that had the St Lawrence at Montreal taken a South Easterly instead of North Easterly direction and entered the Atlantic at Portland the greatest city on the continent must have been at its outlet From the Gulf of Mexico to the waters of the River St John in our own State, extends a mountainous ridge of greater or less elevation distant from one to two hundred miles from the Atlantic coast, beyond which is spread out the unbounded and inexhaustible West,—the great producing region of the earth The natural outlets of this region are the Mississippi and the St Lawrence To strike one or the other of these great arteries of trade by artificial means has been the object of several of the Atlantic States from Georgia to Maine Should any one be asked to look merely at the geographical position of the country and state at what point to secure the most natural flow of business, if either of these natural channels should be tapped, no one would hesitate to decide that it should be at the nearest point of junction with the ocean But a difficulty has heretofore existed from the fact, that from Lake Erie to Montreal, Niagara falls and other rapids occur, which have rendered the continuous navigation of the River and Lakes impracticable To have attempted the construction of a Rail Road from Portland to Montreal while these difficulties continued would have been premature — All this is now changed Ship Canals sufficient for the passage of the largest steamers known upon the great Lakes are just being completed, through which an uninterrupted passage from the ocean can be made to Chicago a distance of over 1500 miles From Montreal to the ocean all are familiar with the dangers and difficulties of navigation The vast trade of the St Lawrence Valley seeks a short and direct passage to the ocean at all seasons of the year. This passage must be by Rail Road and it is impossible to delay very long its completion If it cannot be had through Maine, the natural outlet, it will seek a more western one and terminate in Boston From Portland to Montreal the distance is 202 miles and by the proposed Rail Road less than 250 From Montreal to Boston via Sherbrooke and Concord 361 miles and via Burlington and the Central route 357 miles

The convictions which have so strongly impressed the minds of the citizens of Maine who have examined the matter have operated with equal force upon the public mind of Canada, and the Legislature of Canada and Maine have secured Charters for a Rail Road between Montreal and Portland, more liberal in their terms than any ever before granted in this country

Acting in conjunction the corporators in Canada and in Maine have set themselves at work to secure the great prize for which the whole energies of the Union have at different times been invoked A large subscription was made in Canada, and an Agent, (Mr Galt) sent to London to present their stock to British capitalists In a letter under date of July 3d, to a gentleman in Portland he says

On my arrival here, I found every encouragement and am assured that the Stock of the St Lawrence and Atlantic Rail Road will be taken immediately on the Prospectus being issued I therefore hope to have the subject fairly before the public by the 7th and 8th instant

I have stated that no doubt existed of the STATE of MAINE doing her part and I trust the intelligence I now give you will encourage you to persevere and to overcome the difficulties which envy may have thrown in your way

I find even here that Boston correspondents have thrown doubts on your ability to raise the money

The foregoing letter cannot be read by any citizen of Maine without deep feeling of indignant regret No one had doubted that the money for the whole route would be readily furnished in London, as soon as the subject could properly come before the British capitalists, recommended as it was by the entire official and business interests of Canada We should have supposed that Boston would have rejoiced in the success of an enterprise which, while it increased her own business, would have more largely benefitted her faithful ally the State of Maine, particularly if her funds are not drawn upon to aid its completion

Boston has thrown off the mask and shown to Maine her true character From the time the project of our Rail Road was started, her newspapers and her commercials have constantly sneered at our attempt at doing any thing without her aid Our agents at Montreal were met and hunted with every expression of contempt and insult toward Maine All these were looked upon as the efforts, not of Boston merchants, and Boston gentlemen, but of that class of low minded scribblers and babblers with which every community is more or less afflicted We did not suppose till recently that a systematic effort had been and was being made to defeat this road Boston has readily taken stock in all other projects of this character in Maine and it is said, is ready, at once, to build the road from Portland to Augusta and farther East Her boasted regard for Maine comes home upon every breeze, and trumpeted in every newspaper from her city What is that regard An attempt to defeat the project which of all others is to make Maine a great and powerful State How is this shown? Not by your sneering scribblers or her cringing emissaries but by her merchant princes—the correspondents in London market,—the men who control her foreign commerce These men are seeking to make Maine as subservient to her power as she was when we were her "District of Maine" and controlled by her superior strength

CITIZENS OF MAINE shall this plan of our envious rival succeed Unable to check the growing enthusiasm of our own people by her sneers at our poverty, or her threats at our weakness—to arrest the concurring co operation of the Canadas in the great measure of our State, she has gone forth to London and in advance of the application from Canada, sought to prejudice the mind of British capitalists against Maine, and defeat thereby the whole project Let this matter be understood by our people and Maine can easily build the entire portion this side the boundary Our capital is abundant, now employed in other business A half million a year for 5 years can be laid aside for this road without any perceptible withdrawal of capital from business and the stock will be sought for almost as soon as the first million is subscribed This sum must be subscribed to secure the charter Portland has conferred immortal honor upon the State by her zeal and public spirit in this enterprise, but single handed she cannot wrestle with the giant undertaking — Bangor in admiration of her energy, and with a like zeal for the honor and interests of Maine, should come forward in the strength of her youthful energy, and give an impulse to the enterprise which shall ensure its complete success

☞ Hon John Anderson, with one or two other distinguished individuals, arrived here to day noon, and will be in attendance at the Rail Road Meeting announced to be held this evening at the New Court House A grand gathering is anticipated

Annoyances in Church.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

There are various ways in which religious services are more or less disturbed upon the Sabbath, but it would be needless for me to undertake to mention them here, as it is my object only to call attention at this time to one very serious annoyance For some time past I have attended the Methodist church in this city, and have heard, (for I could not see him,) an individual, who, after the preacher had commenced his sermon, and all eyes were fixed intently upon him, enter the passage way leading to the gallery, go up the stairs, and travel the whole length of the gallery before seating himself, with squeaking boots on, that could be heard, at least, fifty rods—interrupting the speaker—causing the congregation to turn their eyes in the direction of the squeaking to ascertain, probably, whether he was a man or a baboon But to be serious, I would advise this person, let him be who he may, to endeavor to get into the gallery before the services commence, if possible, if not to divest himself of his boots, and take them in his hands, and thus enter church. By so doing he would oblige

MANY ATTENTIVE HEARERS

The Harmoneons.

The Concerts recently given at the Court House by this truly harmonious Family, have been well attended, and by audiences, too, whose countenance alone is sufficient to testify, were proof wanting, of their superior skill as artistes and their good standing as private citizens — They have a faculty, without stooping to any mode which is undignified, of suiting all tastes and gratifying all who listen to them, and the severest critic is quite at a loss to discover a discrepancy in their harmony, or an off nerve word in their songs They certainly are original in their style, and never appear to better advantage than when imitating themselves Their entertainments are at once chaste and agreeable—of a high order, without being overstrained—mirthful, without being ridiculous

We do not intend to puff —they need no panegyric to initiate them into public favor,—success has long since been stamped upon their name, and [they will excuse us for the remark,] their highest recommendations come from their own mouths We cannot add to their many laurels, but we may record their triumph

Their entertainment last evening was of the Ethiopian or extravaganza order, and passed off in good style We do not judge of the satisfaction of a refined audience by general outbursts of applause, their approbation is the more ardent when not boisterously expressed If we may be allowed to express a preference where all was acceptable, we should say the melody of—"The Wild Raccoon track," "I musing on the old Canal, and "Were all here, was superior,—their instruments accordas harmoniously as their own voices, and "Wood up, was talked off on the bone castanets in a manner very creditable to "Coney "Lubly Fan has lost none of buoyancy by her easterly tour, and they all appear to be in fine trim

To night they will execute the timbrels of our friends in Oldtown with one of their "Unique Soirees, and to morrow night they will off an attractive bill for another at our Court House when we understand Mrs, wife of Mr I N Crosby, will appear, and sing alto

"Incidents of Travel."

SABBATH

Portland, July 27 1845

Bright beautiful and serene did the morning ring of the day of rest burst upon the opening eyes of a fateful hundreds, who, in the city were anticipating a day of unusual privilege And they were not disappointed The morning sermon by Bishop Joynes was wholly unexpected but I will give you a few hints Unlike most Bishops whom I have seen both of the church of England and of the Methodist Episcopal he is a person rather small in stature with nothing extraordinary or commanding at first view His voice too has neither greatness of compass or volume, being low toned and almost feeble But as he ascended the pulpit and rose before the congregation the influence of the divinity, which so conspicuously shown out from the face of Moses, as he descended from his high communion on the sacred mount, hushed every inquisitive emotion, as his whole appearance unequivocally demonstrated that the secret of God is with man His text was chosen from 2d Corinthians 1st verse of the seventh chapter "Having therefore these promises dearly beloved let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God This sermon was logical, pathos pleasant and spiritual For purity, pathos and effect, it was unsurpassed by any production from any mind with which we have been favored The whole sacrifice, demanded by christianity of its followers, in the consecration of its threefold nature to the principles of the Gospel and the immeasurable results accruing thereto in intellectual and moral man even portrayed with irresistable clearness and energy As we advanced with his subject the splendid imagery of his conception and the glorious beauty of his unstudied eloquence, was captivating beyond measure His graphic description of a christian, as he should be, held the audience in admiring attention while it carried a weight of immeasurable responsibility to the heart and conscience, since it was in perfect and fearful accordance with the scriptures I must transcribe a sentence just to show the sweetness of his manner He said the christian was calm as the morning of creation, serene as the star of Bethlehem — Most solemn was his charge to his brethren in the ministry, to exhibit the spirit which they preached, swerving never from the true position, under the influence of censure or of flattery And in this connection he paid a just tribute to the moral heroism of woman Said he, never fear that your best resolves will not be seconded by those wives who with you have entered upon the great work before you, or to this effect "Our wives are capable of as much christian chivalry as are we" The close of this sermon was indefinably thrilling and eloquent Wholly wrapped in the sublimity of his subject, his countenance glowing with seraphic beauty, the speaker, as he presented the omnipotence of motive urging to the course of christian duty, with unparalleled reverence and humility, approached the very throne of the eternal, unveiling the transcendant glories of redeemed immortals, till,

"The invisible appeared in sight,
And God was seen by mortal eyes!"

The afternoon sermon was by the Rev Dr Olin President of the Wesleyan University at Middleton Conn

It is unnecessary to give any description of his extraordinary person, as he visited Bangor only one year since, and no one who has ever seen him at the distance of half a mile, will soon forget his giant and unwieldly proportions One of the thoughts which naturally arise in the mind, almost at first view, is, that his ideas are vast, because concocted in such a mighty crucible No wonder that his astonishing brain gives birth to high and noble thoughts for they have room to grow there, whereas, those of most people are crowded, and burst out prematurely, before they are ripe

Well, this sermon was on the following text, taken from Matthew 5th, 14th 15th 16th verses Ye are the light of the world &c It was worthy of himself Strength, perspicuity and originality, mark every sentence uttered by this emphatically great man Although the channel of his sublime conceptions runs so deep that ordinary minds may scarcely fathom, yet the surface, flows with quiet and allurring beauty, impressing the hearer as much with the emotion of pleasure as of grandeur Although, the majesty of intellect of sanctified intellect, is the prevailing sentiment with which you sit in breathless silence, and grateful rapture, beneath the ministration of this rare man and christian The evening of the Sabbath was occupied by Bishop Jones, and the Rev. Mr. Kidder from N Y on the subject of sabbath schools The idea upon which the Bishop dwelt with most strength, was the influence of Sabbath Schools in the preventive of crime! There was great weight and point in his brief remarks

Mr Kidder, touched somewhat largely, upon almost all he different arguments usually brought forward in support of this heaven born institution He has been formerly a missionary to South America, and is a workman who needs not to be ashamed in his calling It was a day of extraordinary interest and long will it be ere its memory fade "

Yours with respect,

Prudence.

Prudence, ladies and gentlemen, prudence that what is prudence Not meanness—not to possess a niggardly disposition To be prudent is not to be wasteful; but to save every thing you can for your own and others use—a pin and a penny—a crust of bread and a potatoe—a scrap of paper and an inch of cloth This disposition is far removed from parsimony, and is a virtue which all should appreciate It is painful to witness the waste in some families Large pieces of bread are suffered to mould and then given to the hogs—potatoes become sour and are useless, and the leavings of a good meal to day, are thrown away, when they might answer for to morrow's dinner With such people it is waste, waste, nothing but waste, Wood is lavishly thrown upon the fire, chairs and tables are broken, and rom the garret to the cellar, the house looks as if a stray bolt of lightning had been wandering about

We love economical people—we do sincerely —and never have we had reason to complain of their meanness Every thing about their dwellings looks neat and tidy, and when you sit down to a meal, you can eat comfortable, without thinking of the peck of dirt.

Our young men and women miss it sadly when they expend so much upon their persons Every week or two they want something new, before their old garments are half worn out — They must learn prudence, or want at some future day, will sit on their door steps

There is a political prayer we have somewhere seen, with which we are well pleased It runneth in this wise

"Direct
My thoughts and actions by the rules of reason,
Teach me contempt of all inferior vanities,
Prize not a marble portal gilded o'er,
Assyrian carpets, chairs of ivory,
The luxury of a stupendous house,
Garments performed, gems valued not for use
But needless ornament a sumptuous table,
And all the baits of sence"

☞ Wyatt still draws full houses He has put on a good bill for this evening.

Language.

The endless diversity of words and idioms comprised in the two thousand languages spoken by the human race, the endless variety of musical tones and expression, are not so astonishing, as the simplicity of the machine by which these wonderful results are produced A single volume of atmospheric air expired by the lungs, modulated by the larynx, articulated by the tongue, the palate, the teeth and the lips, is wrought into these infinitely varied manifestations of human thought and feeling It gives an intelligible form to the inward workings of the soul—utters its mightiest thoughts—assumes the nicest shades of its pleasurable and painful emotions —nay, it sweeps over mysterious chords existing in the souls of others, and awakens sympathetic joy, grief, hope and terror in the breasts of thousands it becomes eloquence, philosophy, music Yes, it becomes the favorite instrument by which the Most High communicates his will to the human race. The human voice has been employed to utter the secrets of the eternal mind, to fill of eternity past and eternity to come; to awaken penitence and hope in the bosom of guilty men, and to recall an alienated world to the obedience and love of its Creator — Prof Proudfit

☞ Some weeks since a paragraph appeared in the papers, stating that Mr John Clay youngest son of the Hon Henry Clay, had been confined in the Lunatic Asylum, at Lexington, for insanity We are gratified to learn that the indisposition which afflicted Mr Clay was temporary, and that he entirely recovered in a few days and is perfectly restored to health

☞ We learn that a valuable house belonging to Capt Pierce of Hampden, was struck by lightning on Saturday last and instantly killed
